

MIDNIGHT LIBRARY

Your bookshop, runs itself for you.

An online bookstore with a built-in assistant that does the heavy lifting — writing, designing, translating, selling, and promoting your books.

What your store can do

EVERYTHING YOUR STORE DOES

No jargon. Here is what you get, in plain terms — and what it means for you day to day.

A beautiful online shop

Customers browse your books, buy in a couple of taps, and start reading instantly. Looks great on phones and computers.

Every reader's own library

When someone buys a book, it's saved to their personal library — theirs to open and read any time.

Get paid securely

Take card payments online safely. The money goes to you, and every sale is recorded automatically.

Write books with AI

Describe an idea and the assistant drafts the whole book for you. Review it, tweak it, keep it.

Assistant

Instant book covers

Generate a polished, professional cover in one click — no designer needed.

Assistant

Any language, one click

Translate a book into any language and reach readers around the world — without hiring a translator.

Assistant

Publish in one click

When a book is ready, push it live to your store instantly. It's on sale the moment you say so.

Social media, done for you

Create posts for TikTok, Instagram, Facebook and X — and publish to all of them at once.

Assistant

Know your numbers

See revenue per book, your best sellers, and how the store is doing — at a glance, whenever you ask.

Just talk to your assistant

Ask “how were sales this month?” and it answers with a clear chart. Ask it to write, translate, or post — it handles it.

Assistant

You're always in control

The assistant never publishes a book, spends money, or posts to social media on its own. It prepares everything, shows it to you, and waits for your “yes” before anything goes live.
